It is estimated that 160,000 children miss school every day due to fear of attack or intimidation by other students. (Source: National Education Association.)

At least 1 million children were harassed, threatened or subjected to other forms of cyberbullying on Facebook during the past year.

42% of youth (ages 12-20) report being bullied on Instagram, 37% report being bullied on Facebook, and 31% have been bullied on Snapchat. (Source: “Ditch the Label” survey of 10,020 youth in 2017)

Kids who are obese, gay, or have disabilities are up to 63% more likely to be bullied than other children.

1 in 7 students in grades K-12 is either a bully or a victim of bullying.

56% of students have personally witnessed some type of bullying at school.

15% of all school absenteeism is directly related to fears of being bullied at school.

1 out of every 10 students who drops out of school does so because of repeated bullying.

Harassment and bullying have been linked to 75% of school-shooting incidents.

Nearly 9 out of 10 LGBT youth reported being verbally harassed at school in the past year because of their sexual orientation. Nearly half (44%) reported being physically harassed. About a quarter (22%) reported being physically assaulted.
Nearly two-thirds (61%) of LGBTQ youth who experienced harassment or assault never reported the incident to the school. Of those who did report the incident, nearly one-third (31%) said school staff did nothing in response.

38% of online girls report being bullied, compared with 26% of online boys. In particular, 41% of older girls (15-17) report being bullied—more than any other age or gender group.

67% of all teens say bullying and harassment happens more offline than online.

More girls are cyber-bullies than boys (59% girls and 41% boys).